

Gerrand Rath Johnson LLP, a medium-sized Regina law firm, has an immediate opening for an associate lawyer interested in practicing litigation.

Gerrand Rath Johnson offers a challenging, dynamic, and team-oriented work environment. Ideally the applicant lawyer will have a 2 - 4 years of experience, not necessarily focused on litigation. An applicant with a strong interest in oral advocacy and hearing work is preferred. Strong writing skills are also an asset. The position may offer some opportunity to work in areas outside of the litigation sphere.

The successful applicant will be self-motivated and excited to join an established firm with a strong reputation within the Saskatchewan legal community. GRJ prides itself on being an enjoyable place to work with a strong commitment to inclusion and respect. We are a closely knit group of lawyers and staff and seek an associate lawyer who would be a good fit with all of us.

GRJ offers a salary commensurate with experience and qualifications. GRJ also offers a generous bonus system.

Please submit your expression of interest on a confidential basis to the attention of Devan Coates,
